Over The Counter improv

OTC improv provides Leadership/Team Building Workshops to corporations throughout the United States

Why are OTC improv Team Building workshops so different?

OTC improv teaches team building and leadership skills by nurturing the right side of the brain through a unique and hilarious form of improvisation. This high energy, highly interactive workshop incorporates fun games and important historical insights into the presentation to develop camaraderie, creativity, humor, and spontaneous thinking in a way that is refreshingly honest and thought-provoking.

Every improv game is designed to help people think outside the box and become comfortable with the uncomfortable.

Neuroplasticity and OTC improv: The brain's ability to reorganize itself by forming new neural connections throughout life aided by improvisation.

1. By strengthening the neural connections to the right side of the brain through improvisation, one's dreams and eureka moments are enhanced helping with innovation, creativity and divergent thinking.
2. Once the business improv exercises have been practiced for a few weeks, the temporary neural connections become stronger and more permanent, making skills such as quick thinking, humor, and empathy much easier to utilize.
3. Practicing business improvisation (which can be somewhat stressful) helps executives to make decisions more effectively without getting bogged down or paralyzed with fear; confidence is gained through repeated improvisational exercises.

Business Improv Testimonials

"The session was the best 1-hour workplace breakout-style training session I've ever experienced". - Jason Hassing, Manager IT, Compass Group
